

Transcript for Strip

263 — Important Conversations

- Panel 1: We see the outside of the door to Nickey's apartment, the number 202 clearly displayed. The narration bar reads: Words were invented to help us understand each other.
- Panel 2: Inside the apartment, we see a bowl of roses on the dining table, but no one sitting nearby. The narration bar reads: We assign words to thoughts, ideas, feelings, and we use them as best we can to express ourselves.
- Panel 3: We see the couch where Sheila and Nickey have watched movies and cuddled, but they aren't there now. The narration bar reads: It doesn't always work. Misunderstandings can happen, or perhaps we just don't have the vocabulary to say what we mean.
- Panel 4: We now see the closed bedroom door. The narration bar reads: Some really important conversations can't be had with words.

